ENDED.

Woman's Mission- ary Society.

Closed State Conven- tion Tuesday.

$250 Pledged For Work In India.

Interesting and Instructive Ad- dresses of Speakers.

Tuesday afternoon's session of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, was occupied mainly by the committees and officers, who wound up the business of the meeting. Aside from the nomination of officers, whose names were given in Tuesday's Democrat, Missionary literature was read to the members by Mrs. A. S. McKittrick, resolutions read by Mrs. E. P.
Tingley, and the report of the committee on memorial was read by Adelaide Gail Frost, who acted for Mrs.
A. P. Frost, chairman of the committee. Music was furnished by the Akron Ladies' quartette and hymns were sung under the direction of Prof. J. E.
Hawes, of Ada, O., who has been possibly the most conspicuous figure of the convention.

Mrs. Harris Reid Cooley, addressed the convention on "Service and Character," showing the dignity of service and the many glorious examples of service before the eyes of missionary workers for inspiration.

"It is only when animated by a desire to look upward and raise upward that we accomplish any worthy service, so let us strive, by worthy service, to acquire riches through giving and character through service."

Miss Mary Graybill, a missionary for years in the district near Mahoba, India, made the last address of the afternoon, taking as her subject, "A Vine of the Lord's Planting," in which her experiences in the Indian Mission field were described interestingly, and the great opportunities for good among the people of India described.

At the conclusion of the address, it was urged that members present club together and attempt to raise the amount needed for another station in India. A short canvass resulted in the pledging of $1,250 to apply to the establishment of the work Miss Graybill has in view. The convention was formally closed with a consecration service, led by Katie B. Teachout, of Cleveland.
